PREPARING FOR THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Minneapolis and St. Paul Vying in Elaborate Arrangements to Give Delegates and Visitors a Good Time—Some Places Worth Looking At.

Minneapolis and St. Paul have determined that when the Republican national convention meets in the former city next June they will outdo in the magnificence of their hospitality any previous efforts. At least 50,000 strangers are expected, and yet the Twin Cities assert that there will be ample and comfortable accommodations for all. The cities are so close together, and there are so many means of rapid transportation between the two places that St. Paul will be just as available as a stopping place as Minneapolis. The principal hotels are magnificent hostels, capable of accommodating thousands without undue crowding.

Many of the distinguished delegates will be entertained by the wealthy residents of St. Paul and Minneapolis. Fine quarters—the best, it is said by Secretary J. Sloat Fassett, of the national committee, ever provided on a similar occasion—have been set apart near the convention hall for the out of town correspondents, and the local press. While the hotels, large and small, will naturally be crowded to their utmost capacity, they have prepared for the coming event so elaborately that it is not likely that any one will be much ahead on the convention. In short, the people of Minneapolis and St. Paul seem desirous of showing outsiders how hospitably and elegantly they can entertain. The capacity of the exposition building, in which the convention will be held, has been variously estimated at from 12,000 to 15,000. It is said that ample provision has been made there for the telegraphers, of whom it is expected there will be more than 100.

There are many points of interest near Minneapolis, notable among them being the state park, within the borders of which are the Soldiers' home and the beautiful Minnehaha falls, which would have become celebrated even if Longfellow had never written "Hiawatha." A short distance from Minnehaha stands grim Fort Snelling, the oldest fort in the northwest. Just outside of Minneapolis lies the far famed resort so much affected by southerners, Lake Minnetonka. It is unquestionably one of the most beautiful lakes in the United States and is surrounded by fine summer hotels and cottages for visitors. Other near by lake resorts are numerous. This is, indeed, a region of lakes.

The matter of transportation for the large crowd which will attend the convention is an important one, and this work will devolve upon Mr. Thomas Lowry, the controlling spirit in the electric car system of Minneapolis. Mr. Lowry is a public spirited citizen, who started life as a struggling lawyer, and by industry and faith in the future of his city has amassed a large fortune.

Another prominent figure at the convention will undoubtedly be Hon. William R. Merriam, governor of Minnesota, who will, in a measure, stand as the exponent of the hospitality of his state. Mr. Merriam, outside of his official position, has a keen interest in the convention, as he is a wealthy banker and an ardent Republican.

HER FRIEND.

"Twas in the Boston fair express a little maiden sat;
She occupied the seat alone; beside her lay her hat.
She clutched her dolly to her breast in childish play;
As if she feared some dreadful giant would snatch it right away.
"Are you alone, my little girl?" I asked as I stooped down.
"My mamma told me Dad was here!" she said with half a frown.
"She teased me an my dolly, and I dess I don't know you."
"But, dear," I answered, smiling, "tell me where you're going to."
She twisted in her seat, and then she tossed her tangled hair.
"I'm dola on to Boston, an my pop'll meet me there."
"But, dear," I questioned gently, "if the choo choo cars should stop.
"And you should wait, and walk, and walk, and then not find your pop."
"What would you do?" The little maiden shook her head and frowned.
"My mamma says when pop is gone, that Dad is somewhere round."

The train rolled into Boston town. I waited there awhile
And watched my little blue eyes, with her half expectant smile.
"Dess waitin' for my pop," she said, "with dolly fast asleep."
And then a man came rushing in, I knew him by his cap,
He snatched his little daughter up with frantic, feverish gleam.
And then, with father's instinct, quick his eye was turned on me.
"Well, Hess," he asked, "who is your friend?"
With quaint, expressive nod
The maid replied: "I dess I know. I flink it mus' be Dad."

America's Paper Making Capacity.

The United States has a capacity for producing about 13,350,000 pounds of paper annually, not counting the idle mills, of which at present about seventy are reported, out of a total of 1,180. Of this enormous product some 3,735,000 pounds are used in printing newspapers and books, and 212,800 pounds more go to help bind the books printed. It is estimated that 498,000 pounds are consumed by the building trades; 3,176,000 pounds of wrapping paper are used and 590,000 pounds of writing papers. An important item is the production of nearly 1,600,000 pounds of press, straw and wood pulp "boards." The production of "artificial leather," fortunately for the purchasers of shoes, has been decreasing since 1884, when 129,000 pounds of this material were produced. The most rigid economy is practiced in paper making; hence the high degree of mechanical skill and executive ability connected with this industry as compared with the cost of the product.—New York Telegram.

Change of Fifty Years.

The tardy justice done to women in the passing of the women's property act in England and America was the direct outgrowth of the wages system. The fact that woman had no right in her earnings, inherited property, or even in her personal belongings, until recent years, took away all stimulus to active money making effort. Driven to it by the failure of husband or father to provide for her wants, she could not hold any possession from the grasp of the selfish, cruel, tyrannical or degraded male relative who possessed legal power over her. The change in these selfish conditions has all occurred within the past fifty years, and it is marvelous. Jenny June's "Thrown on Her Own Resources."

Catcher Flint's Wonderful Hands.

Charles Seymour, the newspaper man, used to tell a story about Catcher Flint. When the Chicago Ball club called on the president in Washington each member of course shook hands with the executive. When the president's hand was released by "Old Silver" the president was seen to quickly thrust it into the pocket of his coat. Then he felt about in his pocket a bit, took his hand out and looked at it with some surprise, remarking, "Oh, I beg pardon; I thought you had given me a handful of walnuts."—Chicago Post.

Three Small Trees.

Keampfer is quoted as describing a trio of trees he saw in a box 1½ inches broad, 4 inches long and 3 inches deep, for which the owner asked the traveler the modest sum of $500. The three denizens of the box were a bamboo, a monthly blooming plum tree and a blue leaved pine, all perfectly formed and seemingly enjoying their dwarfed existence.—St. Louis Republic.

Taking Her Down.

Little Dot—Ma, may I take the baby out in my dolly's carriage?
Mamma—Why, what for?
Little Dot—Sussie Stuckup has a new doll 'at shuts its eyes an cries "Wah, wah!" I'm doin to betend the baby is a doll and let her hear him yell. Then I dess she'll stop puttin on airs.—Good News.

Horse Sense.

As regards color, gray horses live longest, roan horses nearly as long. Cream colored horses are deficient of staying power, especially in summer weather. Bays, on an average, are the best. Horses with black hoofs are stronger and tougher than others.—Rider and Driver.

Wanted the Needles.

A man customer in a Boston store would not purchase an electric belt because it did not have all those needles sticking out in every direction from it, such as pictured in the papers.—Pharmaceutical Era.

The earliest coinage that can be called American was ordered by the Virginia company, and was minted in the Bermudas in 1612. But then, and for long afterward, the standard currency of Virginia was tobacco.

Conch shells, when ground, enter into the manufacture of porcelain. The rose colored pearls of the pink conch are very valuable, and have a beautiful wavy sheen like that of watered silk.

An English clergyman whose advertisement has more than once appeared in a London paper nets a nice sum annually by the sale of a special breed of puppies.

Driven out — all impurities of the blood, no matter of what name or nature, or from what cause arising, by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Clear your skin with it. Every disfigurement, from a common blotch or eruption to the worst Scrofula, will disappear. It invigorates the liver, cleanses, purifies, and enriches the blood as nothing else can, and promotes all the bodily functions. For all the many and varied forms of Scrofula, and for the most stubborn Skin and Scalp Diseases, such as Salt-rheum, Tetter, Erysipelas, Eczema, Boils, Carbuncles, and kindred ailments, nothing can equal it as a remedy. The surmounting claim to do good in March, April, and May. The "Discovery" does more than that. At all seasons and in all cases, it is guaranteed to benefit or cure, or you have your money back. Nothing else offered by the dealer, though it's probably better for him, can be "just as good" for you.

WHY IS THE W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE THE BEST?

THE BEST SHOE IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY? SHERIFF'S SALE.—IN CHANCERY of New Jersey—Between Schuyler B. Jackson, complainant, and Anna L. Moffat et al, defendants. Pl. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias, to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House in Newark, on Tuesday, the fourteenth day of May next, at two o'clock p. m., all that tract or parcel of land and premises situate, lying and being in the township of Bloomfield, Essex County, New Jersey.

Beginning at a point in the northerly line of Fairview Place, distant westerly from Weaver Avenue one hundred and fifty feet; thence (1) north twenty-seven degrees and fifty-five minutes one hundred feet; thence (2) at right angles with the last course, in a westerly direction, one hundred feet; thence (3) at right angles with the last course, in a southerly direction, one hundred feet; thence (4) along the northerly line of the same, in an easterly direction, one hundred feet to the place of beginning. Being the third tract described in a deed from Edwin W. Hine, Sheriff of Essex County, to said Anna L. Moffat, August 5, 1890.

And in case the process of said sale shall be insufficient to satisfy said complainant's mortgage, with costs and interest, then the tracts situate and described in said writ shall be sold, that is to say, all those tracts or parcels of land and premises situate, lying and being in the township of Bloomfield, in the county of Essex and State of New Jersey.

First Tract—Beginning at a point in the easterly line of Orchard Street, distant from Montgomery Street three hundred and fifty-three feet six inches; thence (1) in an easterly direction one hundred and seventy-four feet and two inches to land of Samuel Bell; thence (2) along said Bell and Benson's lands, in a northerly direction, fifty feet; thence (3) along said Benson's land, in a westerly direction, one hundred and seventy-four feet and six inches to Orchard Street; thence (4) along the easterly line of said Orchard Street, in a southerly direction, fifty feet to the place of beginning. Being the first tract described in said deed.

Second Tract—Beginning on the easterly side of said Orchard Street at the northwesterly corner of a lot recently conveyed by Samuel Benson and wife to Patrick Dillon; thence (1) along the northerly side of said lot, north eighty-eight degrees and fifty-five minutes east one hundred and seventy-four feet and six inches to Samuel Bell's land; thence (2) north one degree west along said Bell's line, thence (3) south eight degrees and fifty-five minutes west one hundred and seventy-four feet and ten inches to said Orchard Street; thence (4) along said street south one degree and five minutes east fifty feet to the place of beginning. Being the second tract described in said deed.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—ESSEX COMMON

Pleas Court—Gustav Bruett vs. Whipple O. Bayles. Pl. fa. By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias, to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House in Newark, on Tuesday, the thirty-first day of May next, at two o'clock p. m., all the right, title and interest of the defendant of, in and to the tracts or parcels of land and premises situate, lying and being in the township of Bloomfield, Essex County, New Jersey.

First tract. Being the homestead formerly owned and occupied by Joseph S. Dodd, deceased, and conveyed to him by Stephen F. Crane and wife by deed dated July first, 1892, and recorded in Book D 24 of deeds for Essex County, pages 104, &c., and therein described as follows: Bounded westerly and northerly by lands of Herman Cadman, easterly by lands of Isaac Dodd, deceased, meaning thereby lands which compose a part of his farm, but late belonging to Joseph S. Dodd and Moses Dodd, containing six acres, more or less, situate on the northerly side of the Newark and Pompton Turnpike about half a mile west of the Bloomfield church.

Second tract. Being a small lot or strip of land lying in part of the said homestead between said Turnpike Road and the Mill Pond. The above premises intended to include all the real estate conveyed to William A. Benson by Emma F. Dodd and others by deed dated May 28, 1890, and recorded in the Clerk's Office of the County of Essex, excepting and reserving therefrom all that tract of land conveyed by Whipple O. Bayles and wife to Charles W. Martin by deed dated July 14, 1888, and recorded in Book D 24, pages 50, &c., of deeds for Essex County, N. J.
